About the Trip

We had an autumn hike at Little Manatee River State Park — this one is a spring adventure. New birds, new plants, and maybe baby gopher tortoises. We'll hike the Oxbow Trail along the river, and if we're lucky we'll see a dwarf fringetree in bloom (it's really pretty).

Open to non-members, so everyone is welcome, kids too.

Good to Know Before You Go

- No charge for the hike; park entry fee applies: $4 for 1 person in a car, $5 for 2–8 people.
- Meet at the picnic area parking lot — it's the 2nd right after you pass the ranger station.
